

EXHIBIT L

Local News (5:00 to 8:00 a.m.)

The following program segments aired this quarter on KHON-TV, primary channel 2, during the station's regularly-scheduled MORNING NEWS program which airs Monday-Friday, 5a.m.to 8 a.m. Each segment is three to four minutes in duration, has not previously aired on KHON-TV or another station, and was not broadcast for payment or any sort of consideration to the licensee or any related organization or entity.

Date Aired	Title	Locally Produced
1/11/12	PROMOTING HONOLULU FIREFIGHTERS WORKSHOP FOR POTENTIAL FEMALE FIREFIGHTERS	Y
1/17/12	SHRINERS HOSPITAL FUNDRAISER	Y
1/20/12	OPEN HOUSE FOR REHAB'S STROKE RECOVERY CENTER OF HAWAII	Y
1/20/12	EAT OUT FUNDRAISER-PROCEEDS TO HELP HAWAIIAN SOLJAH'S BASEBALL TEAM GO TO COOPERSTOWN	Y
1/25/12	ALOHA HARVEST-FEEDING HAWAII'S HUNGRY	Y
1/25/12	FREE PHOTOS FOR KIDS WITH AUTISM	Y
1/30/12	START UP HAWAII IV-HELPING PEOPLE START THEIR OWN BUSINESS	Y
2/13/12	NEW BABIES IV-BABY CARE TOPICS	Y
2/15/12	CAR SEAT IV-HOW TO STRAP IN CAR SEATS SAFELY	Y
2/22/12	CANCER COOKING PROJECT-FREE SEMINAR	Y
2/23/12	BRAIN INJURY IV-PROMOTING FREE CONFERENCE	Y
3/7/12	WORLD KIDNEY DAY IV-PUSH FOR DONORS	Y
3/7/12	CRIMESTOPPERS ANNUAL FUNDRAISER	Y
3/9/12	HUMANE SOCIETY IV-HELP WITH RESCUE AND ADOPTIONS	Y
3/12/12	FUNDRAISER FOR ISLAND OF LANAI	Y
3/13/12	FIRE SAFETY IV-FIRE SAFETY FOR KIDS	Y
3/19/12	LIFE VEST SAFETY-HOW TO CHOOSE, WEAR AND USE ONE	Y
3/21/12	DOE DRIVING CHALLENGE WITH STUDENTS	Y
3/27/12	QUEEN'S MEDICAL CENTER BRAIN STUDY ON CHILDREN AFFECTED BY METH USE	Y

Local News (Evening Newscasts)

The following program segments aired this quarter on KHON-TV, primary channel 2, during the station's regularly-scheduled NEWS programs airing Monday-Friday, 5:00 p.m., 6:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. Each segment is three to four minutes in duration, has not previously aired on KHON-TV or another station, and was not broadcast for payment or any sort of consideration to the licensee or any related organization or entity.

Date / Time Aired		Title	Locally Produced
1/16/12	5PM	ACTION LINE CONSUMER ALERT-Warning that thieves are luring victims who use social media	Y
Saturdays	6/10PM	HAWAII'S MOST WANTED-Crimestoppers most wanted criminals for the week.	Y
1/17/12	6PM	Residents of Hawaii island have another 24 months to prepare for plastic shopping bag ban	Y
1/18/12	6PM	More than a hundred employers on hand for job fair	Y
1/20/12	5PM	Lokahi drive where you can drop off your old phone books for recycling	Y
1/12/12	6PM	Open house for specialized stroke recovery center at rehab hospital of the pacific	Y
1/21/12	10PM	Eat out fundraiser for Enchanted Lake elementary school	Y
1/23/12	5PM	ACTION LINE CONSUMER ALERT-Scammers lure consumers to buy fake NFL team jerseys online	Y
1/25/12	5PM	BE GREEN REPORT-Kauai residents asked to go a day without using electricity	Y
1/25/12	5PM	Reminder of some things parents should do before buckling up infants and toddlers in car seats	Y
1/26/12	5PM	Classes for those who operate care homes for seniors	Y
1/27/12	5PM	The difference between a breach and hacking for businesses	Y
1/27/12	6PM	Recycling sites opening for old phone books	Y
1/28/12	6PM	Volunteers take part in NOAA's annual humpback whale count	Y
1/29/12	6PM	Visitors bureau launching multi-million dollar campaign to re-brand the Hawaiian Islands	Y
1/30/12	5PM	ACTION LINE CONSUMER ALERT-warning about two types of texting scams hitting Hawaii consumers	Y
1/31/12	5PM	New organization will help you set up foodscaping project in your backyard	Y
1/31/12	5/6/10pm	City's new APP that allows residents to file complaints	Y
2/1/12	5PM	Experts talk about the possible causes of depression	Y
2/1/12	10PM	Free lessons in CPR offered at local café.	Y
2/2/12	5PM	Organization of folks 55 or older, called RSVP dedicated to helping others for free	Y
2/2/12	5/10PM	Local students raise money to pay for measles vaccinations for third world countries	Y
2/3/12	10PM	Work starts on a new affordable housing project in West Oahu. People are helping to build their own homes	Y

Local News (Evening Newscasts continued)

Date / Time Aired		Title	Locally Produced
2/4/12	6PM	Free CPR training and blood screening from heart disease survivors	Y
2/5/12	6PM	Fundraiser for Honolulu police officer killed on the freeway	Y
2/6/12	5PM	New cellphone AP unveiled to prevent drivers from texting while driving	N
2/6/12	5PM	ACTION LINE CONSUMER ALERT-Phishing scam that's now targeting Hawaii seniors by calling their home to try and get personal information	Y
2/7/12	5PM	Smart grid project on Maui could help lower electricity costs	Y
2/8/12	5PM	An expert talks about the science of CPR	Y
2/8/12	6PM	Elementary school's annual jump for the heart field day to promote a healthy lifestyle	Y
2/11/12	10PM	Benefit concert to help kids with heart disease go to camp	Y
2/13/12	5PM	Thieves are using Valentines day e-cards to target consumers through email	Y
2/13/12	6PM	Local hospital gets $647,000 as a rebate for energy conservation	Y
2/19/12	6PM	Eighteen schools go head to head in a robotics competition	Y
2/20/12	5PM	ACTION LINE CONSUMER ALERT-Newlywed couple talks about experience becoming victims of a craigslist scam while looking for a new home	Y
2/20/12	6PM	Musician asks for the public's help to get his stolen guitars back	Y
2/21/12	6PM	Disabled residents will work the land as part of a new employment training program	Y
2/22/12	5PM	How buying local can be good for our economy but can also affect our health	Y
2/22/12	6PM	Girl scout cookies are being distributed for sale on Oahu	Y
2/22/12	10PM	$800,000 being donated to groups that work to protect Hawaii's environment	Y
2/22/12	10PM	Two civilians are recognized by the police department for their heroic actions	Y
2/23/12	6PM	New website launched to make it easier to plan a trip to Pearl Harbor	Y
2/24/12	6/10PM	Ground is broken on Oahu's newest wind farm	Y
2/26/12	6PM	Former Pan American employees organize sale of memorabilia	Y
2/27/12	5PM	ACTION LINE CONSUMER ALERT-Tips to consumers to avoid web-based schemes that offer bargains on brand-name items	Y
3/1/12	5/6PM	'March for wheels' to bring awareness to programs that bring food to the elderly	Y
3/5/12	5PM	ACTION LINE CONSUMER ALERT-Warning about a sweepstakes scam targeting Hawaii consumers that's making a comeback	Y
3/8/12	5PM	Young boy with brain cancer gets his wish to travel to Italy, thanks to make-a-wish organization	Y
3/9/12	10PM	Humane society reminds pet owners how to keep their pets safe in a natural disaster	Y
3/9/12	5PM	Expert tax advice how to simplify tax records before filing deadline	Y
3/10/12	6PM	Japanese radio station dedicates programming to victims of Japan earthquake and tsunami on one year anniversary	Y

Local News (Evening Newscasts continued)

[illegible]

Satellite stations

These stations rebroadcast KHON-TV's signal throughout Hawaii:

Station	City of license	Channel	First air date	Call letters' meaning	ERP	HAAT	Facility ID	Transmitter Coordinates
KHAW-TV	Hilo	11 (VHF)	November 27, 1961	HA Waii	3.35 kW	30.5 m	4146	19°42'51"N 155°8'3"W
KAIH-TV	Wailuku	7 (VHF)	November 1958 ¹	HawAII	3.69 kW	753 m	4145	20°39'27"N 156°21'39"W

Notes:

- 1. The Broadcasting and Cable Yearbook says KAIH-TV signed on November 17, while the Television and Cable Factbook says it signed on November 19.

EXHIBIT M

LIST OF ISSUES FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF 2012
KITV-DT - HONOLULU, HI
KMAU-DT - WAILUKU, HI
KHVO-DT - HILO, HI

1. THE ECONOMY - Hawaii's residents struggle with some of the highest prices in the nation on food, goods and services, and housing. The tourist economy collapsed in late 2008 and taxes on small business still force many to close or relocate to mainland cities, and now unemployment is creating major problems for many.
2. EDUCATION - Education is an important issue for this state. Hawaii is the only state in the nation that has a central Department of Education that controls schools statewide. Test scores indicate Hawaii needs to improve the quality of public education for its citizens.
3. HEALTH & SAFETY - Hawaii is "The Health State." Universal health coverage is a reality here, but the multi-ethnic population is still struggling with the high cost of health care and the effects of the diseases that affect all Americans. Safety is an issue in schools, neighborhoods and on the roads. Homeland security is a major issue based on Hawaii's geographic isolation and its strategic value for the armed services.
4. THE ENVIRONMENT - Hawaii's unique environment is home to half of the world's endangered species. Protecting the environment, educating the public and guarding against the introduction of alien species is the concern of many of Hawaii's citizens and the single most important issue of Hawaii's young people.
5. HAWAIIAN CULTURE & CULTURE OF HAWAII'S PEOPLE - Hawaii's indigenous people are working to preserve their language and culture along with traditional arts and dance. They continue the struggle for self-determination in land and law. Chinese, Japanese, Filipino and many other cultures contribute to what makes Hawaii unique in today's world.

Each month, KITV4 employees contribute their time to a wide variety of community organizations. Those efforts are noted as KITV4 Outreach on the accompanying document.

PROGRAMMING THAT RESPONDED TO LISTED ISSUES

Issue: THE ECONOMY

Hawaii Foodbank – 1/1-1/8/12

Message requesting donations to the Hawaii Foodbank to help the homeless.
Aired :30 PSA for a total of 8 times during the above period.

Carol Kai Charities – 1/5-2/18/12

Campaign message to support the Great Aloha Run/Expo
Aired :30 PSA for a total of 32 times during the above period.

Helping Hands Hawaii – 1/16-1/31/12

Awareness campaign for this non profit organization.
Aired :30 PSA for a total of 42 times during the above period.

Special Olympics – 1/20-3/31/12

Message encouraging support of the local Special Olympics.
Aired :30 PSA for a total of 12 times during the above period.

United Cerebral Palsy – 3/16-3/30/12

Message encouraging support of annual fundraiser Rubber Duckie Race.
Aired :30 PSA for a total of 8 times during the above period.

USO – 12/29/11-1/31/12

Campaign promoting awareness of this non-profit organization.
Aired :30 PSA for a total of 36 times during the above period.

Date/subject of KITV4 News stories on the Economy:

1/2, 6am, 33seconds: A new round of layoff notices were expected to go out to HMC employees, starting Friday, but official numbers have not been released. Already, 500 staff members have been laid off following the decision to shut down the emergency rooms at Hawaii Medical Center West and East.

1/2, 5pm, 1:50: Lori Kahikina heads the city's design and construction department, which oversees building and renovation of city facilities island wide... She says her department and the city budget department are looking at changing the procurement procedure, so each contractor would submit two envelopes with their bid.

1/2, 10pm, 53seconds: If you're suffering from a holiday spending hangover, the New Year brings an opportunity to get your finances back on track. According to the US Census bureau, the average American cardholder will carry about five thousand four hundred dollars in outstanding credit card debt in 2012.

1/3, 10pm, 24seconds: Tom Okamura will fill the seat left vacant by Blake Oshiro, who resigned last month to become Abercrombie's deputy chief of staff. Okamura will represent District 33, which includes Aiea and Red Hill.

1/4, 6am, 55seconds: On Friday, the city ethics commission announced city special events coordinator Patty Teruya had resigned after an ethics investigation found she spent much of her city work time on non-city activity, including campaigning for city council, buying items on line and searching for a job for her boyfriend.

1/5, 5am, 21seconds: Orbitz, the online travel company is now powering hotel and vacation package bookings on the Hawaiian Airlines website. Under the partnership, Hawaiian can provide hotel suggestions for customers who use the airline website to only book air travel. It also allows the airline to award Hawaiian Miles for booking hotels and packages.

1/5, 5am, 29seconds: State tourism officials are expecting a higher number of visitors here in the islands over the next few months. The Hawaii Tourism Authority released its projections and they show a 3.8 percent increase in seats filled on nonstop flights compared to the same time last year. It says Hawaii is expecting more visitors from the West Coast, Japan, Canada, China and South Korea.

1/5, 6am, 20seconds: Governor Neil Abercrombie goes before a Ways and Means Finance committee today to defend his proposal for the next fiscal year. In his proposal the governor called for no new taxes or tax increases.

1/5, 6am, 29seconds: There's an effort underway to bring back detection dogs, which were used to protect the state from invasive snakes entering from Guam, but were let go because of budget cuts.

1/6, 6am, 19seconds: The national unemployment rate is at its lowest level in three years, after a burst of hiring in December. The Labor Department says employers added 200,000 jobs last month, making the unemployment rate drop to 8.5%, the lowest since February 2009.

1/6, 10pm, 32seconds: Hawaiian Telcom and its unionized workers have extended a "no strike, no lockout" agreement until further notice. A previous agreement was set to expire today. Since last fall, the company and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers - Local 1357 have been embroiled in a labor dispute.

1/17, 5am, 27seconds: Tourism to the harbors on the "Friendly Isle" is at the center of a discussion that takes place today. Gambling, homelessness and the budget are just some of the issues lawmakers are expected to tackle when the 2012 legislative session.

1/8, 10pm, 1:10: This Year the state expects 125,000 visitors from China, a huge increase over the 62,000 welcomed here in 2010. But it's just a small taste of the huge Chinese tourism market yet to be tapped.

1/8, 10pm, 28seconds: Hawaii's tourism industry has been eyeing the huge Chinese visitor market for years. But tough visa requirements have slowed the growth of that market in Hawaii. Now there's new proposal that aims to cut the red tape and reform US visa policies for Chinese and Canadian visitors. Congresswoman Mazie Hirono is one of the backers of the "VISIT USA" act. The bill would allow Chinese visitors to apply for 5 year, multiple-entry visitor visas, instead of the current 1 year visa.

1/9, 6am, 31seconds: Today, state lawmakers begin the process of trimming 130 million dollars from the budget. Economists with the University of Hawaii, meet with members of the Senate Ways & Means committee this morning.

1/9, 6am, 1:02seconds: Governor Neil Abercrombie spent part of this weekend defending his administration's handling of a labor dispute with the state's teachers. The dispute that has put millions of dollars in federal funding, in jeopardy.

1/9, 5pm, 21seconds: US Customs and Immigration officials seized nearly 180,000,000 dollars worth of knock-offs in the 2011 fiscal year, that's up 24% from 2010. But, the value of goods seized decreased by 5%. Consumer electronics were the top commodity seized, followed by footwear and pharmaceuticals.

1/9, 10pm, 37seconds: The Department of Agriculture announced today that it will close 259 offices, labs and other facilities to save 150 million dollars per year.

1/9, 10pm, 34seconds: Nearly 3,000 single-family homes were sold last year for a median price of $575,000. Both figures were down 3% from 2010 when the median price was $593,000.

1/11, 10pm, 34seconds: With Oahu's water rates increasing nearly 10 percent this month, the Board of Water Supply wants to help the public slash their bills. Experts say half of the average water bill for a single family home comes from watering the lawn.

1/11, 10pm, 14seconds: It marks a monumental turning point since Japan has banned the Rainbow Papaya in 1998. But last month the Japanese government made the decision to allow the papayas, meaning more jobs and dollars for Hawaii's economy.

1/11, 10pm, 43seconds: Gas prices are on their way up and that's usually bad news for travelers. But it turns out you may soon see some relief at the airport. Airfares have now hit their lowest levels in 12 months.

1/12, 5am, 46seconds: A recent report says, after 4.5 million jobs went to China over the past decade, three million are now coming back. This includes Ford Motor Company promising 12 thousand new jobs by 2015. Driving the trend is rising wages in China and higher oil prices, making shipping goods here from overseas more expensive.

1/12, 6am, 22seconds: The number of foreclosures in Hawaii dropped by half last year. That's according to the real estate research firm RealtyTrac. Statewide more than 6,000 homes were in foreclosure in 2011.

1/12, 5pm, 47seconds: Hawaii stands to lose 75 million dollars in federal grant money if education leaders can't prove that they plan to follow through on ambitious education reforms. A delegation of education leaders is meeting in Washington DC today, hoping to convince the Department of Education that Hawaii is committed to reaching Race for the Top goals.

1/12, 10pm, 24seconds: Hawaiian Airlines is expanding its interisland connections with a new travel hub in Maui. The hub will increase service between Maui and neighboring islands by 25% by adding 23 to 25 additional flights for daily service. Hawaiian says at least half of those flights will serve the new Maui hub.

1:13: The HSTA released a synopsis to their members Thursday. One of the main points in the 6 year contract is a temporary pay reduction of 5%. That will end June 30th, 2013, when pay will be returned to 2009 levels. Salaries will be based on years of service.

1/16, 6am, 33seconds: Decades of flooding on Oahu's Leeward side has Waianae residents fed up. State Representative Jo Jordan along with dozens of volunteers will return to Pu'uuhulu Stream today to begin cleanup in an area that will undergo millions of dollars of flood prevention work.

1/14, 7am, 52seconds: Electric bills just keep rising in Hawaii and frustrations are growing. Hawaiian Electric Company recently started airing a commercial in response to that. In it, HECO's Executive VP Robbie Alm admits monthly bills have jumped 50% since 2010.

1/16, 6pm, 1:26: Public school teachers received details of the contract over the weekend. Among the highlights, teachers in hard-to-staff complexes will see a $1500 differential for each year of the 6 year contract.

It calls for the DOE to pay licensing fees for some teachers and has salary hikes of one% tied to a new evaluation system and length of service. The contract also provides more time-off for teachers but does not include a system to add more classroom time for students.

1/16, 10pm, 38seconds: Hawaiian Airlines has announced it is expanding its marketing and operational agreement with All Nippon Airways. Beginning Thursday, ANA customers will be able to book some connecting inter-island flights through ANA.

1/17, 6am, 1:31: Continuing to balance the state's budget is top priority when the gates open this legislative session. Though Hawaii is off to a better start than previous years, state lawmakers are still striding towards a stable economy.

1/17, 10pm, 22seconds: Thousands of eyes and ears are lasered in on the leaders for the Hawaii State Teacher's Association tonight. Ten days ago, HSTA negotiators struck a tentative deal with the state on a new contract. Tonight an informational briefing will be held to see if this is what teachers really want.

1/18, 5am, 33secondsd: The Hawaii Legislature opens today for its 2012 session, with serious issues being brought to the table. Opening day ceremonies will pave the way for discussion on various topics such as economic recovery, funding for health care services and job growth.

1/18, 6am, 45seconds: As State Lawmakers prepare for a busy legislative session, County Mayors are getting ready for an uphill battle as well. They will be meeting with the Committee on Ways and Means to hash out budget information for projects in the months ahead.

1/18, 6pm, 56seconds: All four mayors say although tourism numbers are looking better, all islands are expecting less money from property taxes this fiscal year as property values drop. Maui Mayor Alan Arakawa and Kauai Mayor Bernard Carvalho Jr. appeared on KITV4 News This Morning.

11/19, 6am, 1:08: The ongoing labor dispute between HSTA and the State has put millions of dollars in federal funding in jeopardy.

1/19, 5pm, 24seconds: Today, President Obama announced swift changes he says will significantly speed up the visitor VISA process for China and Brazil. That's good news for Hawaii's visitor industry which has aimed to make it easier for Chinese visitors to get to Hawaii. HTA's Mike McCartney released a statement today saying China is an emerging market for Hawaii's tourism industry with unprecedented growth potential."

1/19, 5pm, 1:11: The Hawaii Tourism Authority expects more than 125 thousand Chinese tourists to visit Hawaii this year. That's 28 percent more than last year, but that projection came before President Barack Obama made the announcement.

1/20, 6am, 36seconds: It was just last week that Tesoro corporation announced plans to sell its Hawaii refinery and chain of 32 gas stations. Tesoro produces about half of the state's gasoline and is the primary supplier of diesel used in cars and trucks. But with gas prices already on the rise, what will this sale really mean for the pockets of Hawaii drivers?

1/20, 6pm, 19seconds: This is the first time members of the Hawaii State Teacher's Association have rejected a contract proposal that was supported by union leadership. About 9,000 of the HSTA's 12,500 members voted and 67% voted no.

1/20, 6pm, 1:30: In interviewing three Castle High School teachers, they said they voted no on the proposed six-year contract saying the contract is very vague. They also gave a thumbs down to the proposed teacher evaluation system which would have tied pay increases to teacher and student performances.

1/21, 7am, 43seconds: After Hawaii Public School teachers overwhelmingly voted down a 6 year proposed contract, the governor called for better communication among the union and its members. The Governor's message to the HSTA leaders was loud and clear a day after union members rejected the latest contract proposal.

1/22, 7am, 1:03: On Molokai, the return of a 36 passenger tour boat was met by about a hundred protestors. There was no blockade on the water as agreed to by some community leaders in exchange for more dialogue about tourism growth for the island.

1/23, 5am, 48seconds, Governor Abercrombie will lay out his plan to stabilize Hawaii's economy today in his second state of the state address. A top priority is expected to be how the state will deal with a revised economist forecast that came out earlier this month. The council on revenues trimmed down growth estimates to 11.5%, meaning lawmakers would have 130 million dollars less to work with this year.

1/23, 6am, 43seconds: Balancing the budget, working out a deal with teachers and helping restore emergency services in Leeward and Central Oahu. Those are just some of the issues expected to be addressed today when Governor Neil Abercrombie gives his second state of the state address.

1/23, 5:30pm, 29seconds: In Governor Abercrombie State of State speech, a major focus of his plan dealt with clean energy and independence from oil. The plan would involve Hawaiian Homelands, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, the University of Hawaii and Department of Agriculture.

1/23, 10pm, 31seconds: Hawaiian Airlines has partnered with JetBlue Airways to offer east coast travelers a more convenient way to get to Hawaii. The CEO's of Hawaiian Air and JetBlue signed the partnership agreement at John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York today. Now, customers will be able to purchase single tickets for flights on both Hawaiian and JetBlue.

1/24, 10pm, 42seconds: The Honolulu city council's budget committee met today to consider an overhaul of the city's real property tax system. The city's real property tax advisory committee recently submitted its report that recommended doing away with many exemptions including the homeowners exemption.

1/25, 6am, 25seconds: There's been a lot of talk this week about state employee pay. After years of cuts, and a second rejection of a contract by teachers, there's new evidence our state employees may not be getting their fair share.

1/26, 5am, 1:22: The Hawaii State Teachers Association is not the only union currently trying to settle a contract dispute with the Governor. The Hawaii Government Employees Association or HGEA, may also soon be filing a complaint with the Hawaii Labor Relations Board over its current contract.

1/26, 6am, 1:21: The Current HGEA contract, that most units are currently under, includes a 5 percent salary cut, nine days of paid time off a year, and a 50-50 employer-employee split on medical premiums.

1/27, 5am, 1:23: Today, a Senate committee on Health will be meeting to discuss the future of Emergency Medical Services on Oahu's West side. The committee will be making an appropriation of 1.5 million dollars for fiscal year 2012 to 2013 for medical services for West Oahu patients.

1/27, 5pm, 58seconds: Rising fuel prices aren't the only thing hurting our local economy. An economic expert from UH joined us on KITV4 News this Morning to explain why Hawaii is seeing rising unemployment rates when the nationwide rates are dropping.

1/31, 6am, 33seconds: Tourists spent a record number of dollars in Hawaii last month. The Hawaii Tourism Authority says visitors spent 1.3 billion dollars in December, the highest one month total on record. That brought the annual visitor expenditures to nearly 12.6 billion dollars, the second highest level of visitor spending next to 2007.

1/31, 10pm, 24seconds: Hawaiian Airlines just announced it's starting direct flights between Washington/ Dulles International Airport and Honolulu International Airport on June 7th. The Hawaii Tourism Authority estimates the new route will bring in 135 million dollars in visitor spending and 14 million in tax revenue to Hawaii's economy each year.

2/1, 10pm, 29seconds: Comedian Tracy Morgan's mother says her successful son is refusing to step-in and prevent a foreclosure on her home...Alicia Morgan says she called him last month to ask for 25-thousand dollars to pay off her mortgage...She says Morgan's assistant called back and told her he would only give two-thousand dollars.

2/1, 10pm, 25seconds: Hawaiian Airlines is also expanding online. They've just launched a new mobile web app to showcase all Hawaii has to offer. Log on to hawaiihere.com on your mobile phone's browser to access all sorts of information, like the best places to eat and must see beaches and attractions. You can even keep track of your Hawaiian Miles account.

2/2, 5am, 31seconds: Hawaiian Airlines announced it's accepting applications to fill up to 175 new flight attendant positions. Applications will be accepted until February 14th and must be submitted through Hawaiian Airlines' website. Hawaiian says the hiring surge is to support a variety of new flights and services that will be added in the coming months.

2/2, 6am, 32seconds: It seems a record number of visitors has not helped Waikiki's hotel chains. Starwood Hotels, the parent company of the Royal Hawaiian, Sheraton Waikiki, and the Moana Surfrider reported an income drop of 51% in the last quarter. Starwood reported a net income of 167 million dollars at the close of last year. That's a huge drop from the 339 million dollars reported in 2010. Still, the hotel chain owner reported an overall revenue increase of 14%. Starwood has 1090 properties in nearly 100 countries worldwide.

2/4, 7am, 26seconds: Governor Abercrombie signed an agreement with the South Korean government yesterday to develop a smart grid in the islands. Back in November, the state teamed up with a Japanese company to begin a smart grid test project. A "smart grid" is clean energy technology.

2/4, 10pm, 1:22seconds: A premiere of the film at Mamiya theatre this evening had farmers and vendors displaying the locavore possibilities in the islands. Filmmaker Robert Bates hopes to take the message into communities to encourage people to reclaim agriculture and local food traditions by growing their own.

2/6, 6am, 29seconds: According to an Avis rental car spokesperson, the Maui branches are sold out, because they are not able to run their line of 2012 Nissan Versa. The cars are involved in a safety recall, and parts are reportedly not available. More than 70 vehicles at both the Avis and Budget branches are impacted by the recall.

2/6, 5pm, 16seconds: A 200 million dollar deal negotiated over prime waterfront real estate is reached between Governor Neil Abercrombie and the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. Lawmakers failed to approve a previous settlement reached under the Lingle administration.

2/7, 6am, 51seconds: State Lawmakers are meeting with a nationally recognized gambling critic this week about the price of legalized gaming. Twenty-nine gaming bills will be considered in the legislature this session. John Kindt, a legal policy expert, says slot machines are the biggest money makers for casinos, but warning the money that goes into slots would otherwise be spent on other items that boost the economy.

2/7, 5pm, 27seconds: More than one in three Americans lived in households that received Medicaid, food stamps or other government assistance programs back in 2010. And, when Social Security, Medicare and unemployment benefits were included, nearly half of the nation lived in households that received a government check.

2/7, 5pm, 13seconds: A new report shows the federal government is wasting billions of tax dollars every year making improper payments.

2/7, 10pm, 29seconds: Condo sales in Honolulu are up again, while home sales continue to fall. According to The Honolulu Board of Realtors, 270 condos were resold last month. That's up nearly 2% from January 2011.

2/7, 10pm, 27seconds: No one knows for sure when Hawaii may be reimbursed for the money it fronted to provide security for the high profile APEC event. The state applied for the funds last month under a new process. KITV4 News has learned that more than half a dozen state departments may run out of money before the end of the year if the shortfall isn't covered.

2/8, 6am, 42seconds: State lawmakers are being asked to fund a safety net for several departments who spent millions preparing for last year's APEC summit. The Hawaii National Guard and state Civil Defense spent 2 million dollars helping to provide security for the high profile event.

2/8, 5pm, 56seconds: New auto registrations were up in Hawaii last year, but the local auto industry's recovery is still lagging behind the rest of the country. According to a report today from the Hawaii Automobile Dealers Association, last year registrations were up 4.4% in Hawaii, but nationally, they were up 14%.

2/9, 5pm, 26seconds: A new report from Pew Research Center shows the share of young adults with jobs has hit the lowest level since the government started keeping records, which was just after World War II. Today's report shows only about 54% of those between the ages of 18 and 24 had jobs by the end of 2011.

2/9, 10pm, 1:02: The state is getting 71 million dollars as part of a foreclosure-abuse settlement. Hawaii is among 49 states that agreed to a 25 billion dollar settlement with five of the country's largest mortgage providers in the wake of foreclosure abuses and fraud.

2/11, 10pm, 16seconds: The US Department of Agriculture is renewing a disaster declaration for the Big Island since the vog has caused extensive damage to crops.

2/12, 7am, 52seconds: The push for gambling in Hawaii continues to make waves. New bills proposing everything from a lottery to bingo are in the pipeline. Tomorrow a bill is being heard by lawmakers granting a 20 year license for a stand alone casino in Waikiki.

2/13, 5am, 27seconds: President Barack Obama wants community colleges and businesses to work together to train 2 million workers in high-growth industries like health care, transportation, and manufacturing. Today, he will seek 8 billion dollars to create a fund for the partnership.

2/13, 6am, 30seconds: Firefighters are still on scene at the University of Hawaii at Manoa this morning monitoring hot spots at a fire that has kept crews busy for almost 24 hours now. The fire started around 8am on Sunday but flames re-ignited three hours later.

2/13, 10pm, 51seconds: A House Tourism committee heard two hours of testimony today on a bill that calls for a stand alone gambling casino in Waikiki. Representatives of a Michigan Casino testified the owner of the Detroit Lions is interested in the license.

2/14, 6am, 25seconds: Today is the final day the airline is accepting applications for 175 new flight attendant positions. New positions are being added to support new routes, including nonstop service between Honolulu and Fukuoka, New York, and Seoul. Hawaiian plans to increase its workforce by an additional 500 employees this year.

2/14, 6am, 23seconds: President Barack Obama has also requested 250 million dollars for the Honolulu rail transit project in the coming fiscal year. Hawaii Senator Dan Inouye said that's the largest amount for any rail project in the country. He says the support from the federal government for the project is "unprecedented."

2/15, 6am, 23seconds: The Hawaii based guided missile cruiser, the USS Port Royal is scheduled to be decommissioned as part of a trimmed down defense budget.

2/17, 6am, 35seconds: The compromise on payroll tax cuts and benefits seemed to stabilize the stock market. But, even as the deal is set to pass Congress today, questions remain about whether the legislation really has what it takes to strengthen the economy and create jobs.

2/20, 6pm, 17seconds: Hawaii's Senior Senator says Hawaii will benefit as the US shifts its focus to the Pacific Command in charge of half the globe. That's how US Senator Daniel Inouye describes the US Pacific Command headquartered here in Hawaii and as that command is strengthened, Hawaii will benefit.

2/21, 6am, 46seconds: Gas prices are rising at a record pace this morning on a rocket ride that could hit $5.00 a gallon. The national average is at $3.56 a gallon, the highest it has ever been this early in the year. But it's still lower than the average here in Hawaii at $4.26 a gallon and experts say it's only going to get worse.

2/21, 10pm, 55seconds: They make up what's called the "Seed Industry" here in Hawaii, an industry that's been growing and expanding for decades. But the debate over whether it's safe, and smart for Hawaii is intensifying.

2/22, 6am, 28seconds: For almost a year now, the Honolulu Liquor Commission has been granting bars and clubs permission to install a new gaming device called Product Direct Sweepstakes. The commission said until it hears whether law enforcement considers the devices illegal, it will permit them to be used on Oahu.

2/22, 5pm, 24seconds: A new survey shows Americans won't easily part with their tax refunds this year, with more people planning to save the cash. The National Retail Federation reports of those expecting a refund, 44% said they would stash some of it in savings, that's up from 42% last year.

2/22, 6pm, 1:28: The buzz is quickly raising expectations for Hawaii's film industry future. There is talk of at least one other Hawaii book waiting to be made into a movie. A story by local author Chris McKinney, "The Tattoo" is a gritty tale of one prisoner's life told to another.

2/22, 10pm, 05seconds, The latest U.S unemployment rate stands at 8.3 percent...The lowest it's been in nearly 3 years.

2/24, 6am, 22seconds: Those added flights and passengers require additional staff and Thursday, a record 5,000 people interviewed for the jobs. Hawaiian Airlines is hiring 175 flight attendants, but with the sea of applicants that showed up at the Blaisdell Exhibition Hall, it will take some time to narrow down the list.

2/24, 6am, 1:04: A lot more visitors could come to our islands this year. Hawaii tourism officials expect to add 700,000 more air seats.

2/24, 5:30pm, 27seconds: A company called First Wind broke ground on its fourth project in Hawaii today. The new Kawaihoa Wind farm will produce 69 megawatts, enough electricity to power more than 14,500 homes. The company says Kawaihoa Wind will produce enough local renewable energy to supply up to 10 percent of Oahu's total electric load.

2/24, 10pm, 29seconds: Last month, a new tourism record was set for a single month. Tourists spent 1.35 billion dollars. A 14% increase from January of 2011. There were also 643,000 visitors, which is up almost eight% from this month last year.

2/27, 5am, 37seconds: A bright spot in our economy is the state's visitor industry. More tourists are expected to arrive this year and there's more good news, it looks like they're ready to spend money.

2/27, 6am, 44seconds: Visitor spending in January reached more than 1.3 billion dollars. That's up 14% from January of 2011. The state's tourism authority says convention goers contributed to the increase as well as visitors that arrived from Canada, the eastern half of the US and Japan.

2/27, 6am, 44seconds: Last week we reported more visitors are expected to our islands in 201 and now, we may be able to expect those visitors to spend more.

2/28, 5am, 1:20: Just a day after an Oscar win for the film "The Descendants", state lawmakers are looking at a number of ways to help attract more film productions to the islands. One bill would provide tax credits on a sliding scale based on how many local jobs the production provided.

2/28, 5:30pm, 35seconds: New prisons and overhauls of old facilities are on the table as the state responds to call to bring our prisoners back home. Right now, Hawaii's prison system doesn't have enough room to house all its inmates. But state officials proposed some new ideas to expand and renovate facilities to house more prisoners and ultimately save the state money.

2/28, 6pm, 1:28: In the last fiscal year, the state spent more than $66 million dollars to pay for all the prison inmates shipped to the mainland, where roughly one-quarter to one-third of 6,000 plus inmates are incarcerated in mainland facilities.

3/1, 6am, 24seconds: Honolulu Mayor Peter Carlisle is expected to release his proposal for the city budget for the next fiscal year. Just a week ago in his state of the city address, Carlisle said that the city's 5 billion dollar rail project is the only way to manage Oahu's future growth. It doesn't include property tax hikes. The budget also calls for continuing an across the board labor cost reduction of 5%. Police and fire unions have not agreed to that proposal. Mayor Peter Carlisle outlined a nearly 2-BILLION dollar operating budget that he says is both well balanced and responsible.

3/1, 10pm, 55seconds: The Honolulu Authority for Rapid Transportation today unanimously approved Daniel Grabauskas <Grub-AHSS-kes> as the new executive director and CEO of Honolulu's transit project.

3/2, 6am, 1:32: Sumner LaCroix from the University of Hawaii Economic Research Organization joins us now to talk about how increasing oil prices is affecting our island's economy.

3/2, 6am, 1:32: AAA Hawaii reports the statewide average for a gallon of regular gas is at $4.36 this morning. That's up nearly a quarter from a month ago.

3/5, 5pm, 15seconds: A report due out later this week will criticize states that have used tobacco settlement monies in order to balance their budgets. While Hawaii is not expected to be among the top offenders, money from the settlement has been used for other purposes.

3/6, 5pm, 51seconds: President Obama's announcement to cut refinancing fees today addresses a question many homeowners have been asking themselves, Should I refinance. The President says he wants the Federal Housing Administration to cut upfront fees for refinancing loans it already insures.

3/6, 6pm, 31seconds: Earlier this year the Abercrombie administration and the Office of Hawaiian Affairs announced an agreement in which OHA would get title to land in Kaka'ako Maka'i. The conveyance would satisfy OHA's portion of income from ceded lands from 1978 through June of this year.

3/7, 6am, 26seconds: Right now, the Pearl Harbor Navy shipyard employs nearly 5,000 sailors and has an annual impact of over 900 million dollars. According to the Maui news, that figure should grow now that five additional submarines will be added to Hawaii's 19 boat fleet. Two more Virginia-class attack subs will be among those stationed at Pearl Harbor in fiscal years 2013 and 2014.

3/7, 6am, 1:20: After months of debate, the lines to divide districts are nearly complete. A vote to finalize district maps could happen tomorrow, but it's a process that's taking awhile.

3/7, 6am, 1:15: The Senate passed 372 bills. They include: issuing 500 million dollars in general obligation bonds to fund repair and maintenance projects at a number of state facilities including the University of Hawaii.

3/7, 5pm, 23seconds: Another indication that the economy here in Hawaii is improving, February Home sales in Honolulu were up big from last year. The median price of a single family home sale was 625 thousand dollars, up almost ten percent. There were 217 closed sales in the month, up twenty percent from February last year.

3/7, 5:30pm, 31seconds: Nearly a year after the earthquake and tsunami in Japan caused Hawaii's top economists to revise forecasts down, a new picture today shows both tourism and construction industries on the rise. The Council on Revenues raised its forecast today for the current fiscal year to 12 percent. That's a half percent better than its last forecast in January.

3/8, 5am, 48seconds: There are new signs of an improving economy here in the islands, with both tourism and construction industries on the rise. On Wednesday, the Council on Revenues raised its forecast for the current fiscal year to 12 percent. That's a half percent better than the last forecast in January. That means Hawaii's lawmakers will have 27 to 30 million dollars more to factor into budget talks.

3/9, 6am, 24seconds: The governor has extended the Emergency Proclamation for Oahu and Kauai as a second storm moves through. The House Finance Committee set aside 12 million dollars in the state's supplemental budget to help with the storm repairs.

3/9, 10pm, 1:00: The latest report from the Labor Department reveals more evidence of improvement for the jobs market. Two hundred twenty-seven thousand jobs were added in February according to the government, adding up to the strongest three months for the labor market since the beginning of the recession four years ago. But, the unemployment rate is stuck at 8.3%.

3/12, 5am, 22seconds: The latest unemployment reports shows jobs for younger Americans are on the rise. The Labor Department says the unemployment rate for 25 to 34 year olds fell from 9% to 8.7%. The overall jobless rate was 8.3% in February. New college graduates saw a struggle to find jobs at the worst of the

3/12, 6am, 1:54: The Hawaii Tourism Authority completed its research to value the impact of the 2012 NFL Pro Bowl which was held at Aloha Stadium on January 29. While the numbers aren't as impressive as past years, we're also learning that the NFL may be saying Aloha to the Pro Bowl for good.

3/12, 5pm, 26seconds: Hawaiian airlines has reached a tentative agreement with its flight attendants Union. The agreement covers 1280 flight attendants, represented by the Association of Flight Attendants. The airline says the nearly 5 year agreement will provide cost stability as Hawaiian continues to add flights.

3/13, 6am, 15seconds: State employees have been overpaid by more than two million dollars. A state Senate special committee is scheduled to look into the allegations today.

3/13, 10pm, 33seconds: The inspections were originally mandated in the 1990's, to guarantee that Kona coffee, was actually grown on the Big Island. Some have spoken in support of the bill, saying budget cuts have delayed inspections for up to a month and a half.

3/13, 10pm, 20seconds: Today, the first of three direct charter flights from Nagoya, Japan, arrived in Kona. The Japan Airlines operated flights were book by Kintetsu a corporate travel company. The Hawaii Tourism Authority says it is negotiating with other airlines for direct, chartered flights to cater to Japanese tourists.

3/15, 10pm, 44seconds: The Japan Airlines flight is one of three charter flights this month and is expected to pump more than one million dollars into our state's economy. Kintetsu International chartered the sold out flights from Narita and Nagoya.

3/18, 6am, 30seconds: More than 30 corporate meeting and incentive planners will be in Hawaii to learn about holding their events right here in our islands. A trade show starts today and runs through Tuesday and will provide planners an opportunity to experience Hawaii's facilities and see what makes our state an ideal place to conduct business.

3/19, 6pm, 28seconds: The state legislature is pushing for additional waivers to the VISIT USA act. The measure, put forward by Congresswoman Mazie Hirono, would allow Chinese visitors to apply for 5 year visas, instead of the current one year limit.

3/21, 6pm, 24seconds: The "Arc" in Hawaii had a third of its computers destroyed Monday, when a HECO transmission line shorted. The Arc provides assistance to people with developmental disabilities and their families. Arc says the surge has put a big strain on their budget and are asking for donations to help them out.

3/22, 5am, 25seconds: The University of Hawaii is narrowing its search for a new site to build housing for its professors. It's eyeing two parcels...one is now where the College of Education and the University Lab school are located. The second is just behind the Manoa shopping center where the College of Agriculture has its research laboratories.

3/23, 5am, 21seconds, The US Department of Education will be in Hawaii to perform a fiscal review and to reassess Hawaii's "High Risk" status. Hawaii's DOE says they are looking forward to the visit to show off improvements in math and reading scores as well as new teacher evaluation requirements.

3/23, 10pm, 27seconds: Maui County Mayor, Alan Arakawa released his 2013 Budget today. He used the opportunity to introduce some new development projects Including a 1.5 million dollar proposal to design a new Central Maui sports arena and convention center and another one million to design an aquatic center.

3/24, 7am, 24seconds: If you're looking for a job in Field Engineering, Hawaiian Telcom needs you to provide technical expertise. The salary is up to seventy-nine thousand dollars a year.

3/26, 5am, 21seconds: A new report from the Treasury Department says congested roads are costing drivers one hundred billion dollars a year in wasted fuel and lost time. The report says poor road conditions cost the average motorist about four hundred dollars annually for vehicle maintenance.

3/27, 6am, 19seconds: Expect to see a new site at Hawaii Volcanoes National Park. A new concession company has been selected to run the lodging and retail at the Volcano House. Ken Direction Corporation had previously held the contract for 20 years, which expired in 2009. The company will also provide at least two and a half million dollars in renovations.

3/28, 5pm, 39seconds: Honolulu's number of employed is down 2.8% from its peak in 2007. Even with the increase in unemployment, Honolulu still has one of the lowest unemployment rates, 5.3%, in the country. Housing prices took the biggest hit overall.

3/28, 5pm, 11seconds: A report last month by the University of Hawaii Economic Research Organization showed that at the peak of construction in 2013 and 2014, the rail project will reduce unemployment by more than one-half percent.

3/29, 5am, 24seconds: Today State lawmakers celebrate Agriculture Awareness Day. It is an opportunity for policy makers and the public to learn about Hawaii's agriculture industry and meet many of the organizations and people who supply our communities with locally grown and produced products.

3/29, 5am, 30seconds: Hawaii Medical Service Association is proposing a 3.8% increase for its preferred providers starting July 1st. HMSA also wants to raise premiums for its Health Plan Hawaii by 4% and 3.8% for Comp Med, a program with higher deductibles and lower benefits. HMSA says the increases are to help the non-profit organization break even.

3/29, 5pm, 46seconds: According to the Hawaii Tourism Authority daily visitor spending in February of 2012 rose 8.5%. The daily visitor spending has gone up since last year. Total arrivals in February 2012 rose 5.6% this is up 2.5% from last year.

Issue: EDUCATION

Higher Education for Hawaii Teens/Hawaii P20 Campaign – 1/1-3/31/12

Continuation of KITVr partnership with the State of Hawaii to encourage Hawaii teens to pursue a more rigorous course of high school study. Students will receive preferential consideration when they apply to college for being a Program P-20 student.

Aired :15 PSA for a total 72 times during the above period.

Hawaii High School Robotics Competition- 3/20 – 3/25/12

Message promoting awareness and participation in this competition.

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 18 times during the above period.

Hawaii Broadcasting Association – 3/21-3/31/12

Message encouraging student applications for college scholarships.

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 10 times during the above period.

Rotary Clubs of Hawaii – 2/1-3/31/12

HAB/PEP message educating viewers on the contribution of Hawaii's 50 Rotary Clubs to the communities.

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 45 times during the above period.

Date/subject of KITV4 News stories on Education:

1/3, 6am, 59seconds: Someone has put a University of Hawaii Triple-X website address up for auction on the internet. It appears that the UH has become the victim of what's called "cyber squatting". That happens when someone not affiliated with a company or institution buys a form of its web address and tries to make money by selling it back to them.

1/8, 7am, 51seconds: In two weeks, Hawaii's public school teachers will vote on the tentative settlement reached by union negotiators and the state. The Hawaii State Teachers Association is planning a statewide ratification vote on January 19th. It hopes to provide its members with details of the six year contract by next week.

1/9, 6am, 1:02seconds: Governor Neil Abercrombie spent part of this weekend defending his administration's handling of a labor dispute with the state's teachers...he dispute that has put millions of dollars in federal funding, in jeopardy.

1/10, 6am, 19seconds: It's a new era for Kamehameha Schools. Dr. Holoua Stender has been named the new Head of School for the Hawaii campus. Stender takes over for Dr. Stanley Fortuna, who is retiring.

1/12, 6am, 20seconds: A new telescope is coming to the summit of Mauna Kea and it'll be the largest in the world. China and India just signed on as partners in constructing the one billion dollar "Thirty Meter Telescope". The two countries will share observation time once the telescope is built in 2018.

1/12, 6am, 25seconds: A great learning opportunity for local law students, U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor is coming to Hawaii later this month. She is taking part in a jurist-in-residence program at the William S. Richardson School of Law at the University of Hawaii at Manoa.

1/12, 5pm, 47seconds: Hawaii stands to lose 75 million dollars in federal grant money if education leaders can't prove that they plan to follow through on ambitious education reforms. A delegation of education leaders is meeting in Washington DC today, hoping to convince the Department of Education that Hawaii is committed to reaching Race for the Top goals.

1/13, 6am, 26seconds: Teachers statewide are anxiously awaiting the details of a tentative new contract deal with the state. The HSTA released a synopsis to their members Thursday. One of the main points in the 6 year contract is a temporary pay reduction of 5%. That will end June 30th, 2013 when pay will be returned to 2009 levels.

1/13, 6am, 33seconds: Something big is moving in the Honolulu Academy Art Center, so big it's spilling out of the building's Mezzanine onto the front law. It's the works of renowned Kyoto based textile artist and fashion designer Akihiko Izukura.

1/14, 6pm, 30seconds: The University of Hawaii School of Medicine and Kuakini Medical Center are mourning the loss of physician scientist tonight, Dr. J. David Curb who died last Sunday, at the age of 66. He was a big contributor to health care in Hawaii, bringing numerous research projects to the state and writing over 400 articles. Dr. Curb is survived by his wife, 2 sons, and 2 daughters.

1/15, 6am, 52seconds: Kaiser Permanente Hawaii is helping to get food grown in school gardens into students' meals. Kaiser just awarded Kokua Hawaii Foundation's "Aina in Schools Program" with what they call a "farm to school" grant. The money will fund a school garden safety certification pilot program as well as this summer's Hawaii State Farm to School conference.

1/15, 6am, 31seconds: An Occupy Honolulu meeting yesterday afternoon to talk about the action, was cancelled when most of the group did not show up. Meanwhile, 60 people claiming to be members of the Lawful Hawaiian Government have joined the protestors at the park.

1/17, 6am, 36seconds, Public school teachers may finally have their questions answered about their future. They can quiz union leaders about a tentative agreement on a new working contract at a meeting at the convention center tonight. It includes a proposal to pay teachers in-hard-to-place schools 1500 dollars more a year.

1/18, 5am, 34seconds: An elderly couple from Waimanalo has been given 13 citations for animal cruelty after the Hawaiian Humane society rescued 13 injured cats. A couple of months ago, investigators inspected more than 50 cats living on this couple's property.

1/18, 5am, 27seconds: An animal rights group, "In Defense of Animals" that fights animal exploitation and cruelty says the Honolulu Zoo's new 1.5 acre elephant exhibit is too small. The zoo celebrated the opening of the pachyderm pen last month after 20 years in the making.

1/20, 5am, 37seconds: Hawaii's public school teachers voted against a proposed 6 year contract. Hawaii State Teacher's Association president Wil Okabe says nearly 9,000 teachers voted at polling sites across the state yesterday. If they had voted yes to the contract, teachers would have signed on to a 6 year deal including pay raises based on performance and years with the state education department.

1/20, 5am, 40seconds: The University of Hawaii is looking for people to participate in a study stimulating the experience astronauts would have living and working on another planet. The study is aimed at developing foods that astronauts may eat on a mission to Mars.

1/20, 6pm, 19seconds: This is the first time members of the Hawaii State Teacher's Association have rejected a contract proposal that was supported by union leadership. About 9,000 of the HSTA's 12,500 members voted and 67% voted no.

1/22, 6am, 18seconds: Admission is free for one day only at the Bishop Museum, the deal applies for Kama'aina and military members with a valid ID. It's all to celebrate the birthday of Charles Reed Bishop, the museum's founder.

1/23, 5am, 26seconds: A special birthday today for the woman on track to become Hawaii's second saint. A special ceremony will be held at St. Francis School to honor the 174th birthday of the Blessed Marianne Cope.

1/23, 6am, 42seconds: The potential loss 75 million dollars in funding for the state's schools are expected to be addressed by Governor Abercrombie in his second state of the state address today. The state was put on notice earlier this month that it could lose the money, if it did not begin meeting standards set out by the "Race to the Top" grant requirements.

1/23, 5pm, 1:34seconds: The governor's speech was a lot about ideas without asking for a whole lot of money. KITV4's Political Analyst Neal Milner says for the most part, the Governor's speech was reflective of the state's economy. What was slightly surprising was the governor's statement on education and how urgent it is that the state take whatever measures to not lose the 75 million dollars in Race to the Top funding.

1/25, 6am, 33seconds: Next month, students at the University of Hawaii could see a bump in their fees. The university plans to request an increase for the U-Pass fee which is included in tuition.

1/25, 6pm, 1:31: Teacher evaluations are huge sticking point for teachers who widely voted down the latest tentative contract deal with the state. In part because they worried those evaluations would not be fair and, the state knows they need to get past that to help secure that Race to the Top Grant.

1/26, 5:30pm, 30seconds: The University of Hawaii has settled a two year old lawsuit over multiple data breaches at four Oahu campuses. The class action lawsuit was triggered after 40,000 students' personal records were uploaded on the web. Not long after that someone hacked into the Manoa parking security office exposing credit card information of campus visitors.

1/27, 6am, 33seconds: The principal and a teacher at August Ahrens Elementary School in Waipahu are on paid leave as school officials investigate allegations of financial wrongdoing. Florentina Smith has been principal at August Ahrens since 1995. The DOE would not provide details of the investigation, but says a vice principal from Pearl City High School has been temporarily assigned to lead August Ahrens.

1/27, 6am, 33seconds: Chairman Carl Takamura reportedly resigned in protest over the state Board of Education's reversal of the panel's decision to convert Laupahoehoe School to a charter school. Former Chairwoman Ruth Tschumy and Pualani Akaka resigned with him.

1/27, 6am, 3:01, The "Great Recession" may be over but many people still aren't seeing the results in their own wallets. Here with some insight on what all the latest federal reports mean, is Dr. Carl Bonham, from the University of Hawaii Economic Research Organization.

1/30, 5am, 17seconds: The State Department of Education is getting more than 40,000 dollars to participate in a National School Lunch program. The money is being provided by Kaiser Permanente Hawaii.

2/1, 5am, 1:01: Principal Olaso challenged her students to read 9500 books. As a reward, she would camp out on the school's roof, for a full day. As you can imagine, with that kind of incentive, they not only met the challenge, but exceeded it by 800 books!

2/1, 5am, 47seconds: Developer Palamanui presented the University of Hawaii with a check for nearly 10 million dollars to assist with building costs. Renderings of the future campus were unveiled Tuesday.

2/2, 5am, 32seconds: HMSA is now accepting applications from Hawaii high school seniors graduating in 2012 for the 7th annual Kaimana Awards & Scholarship program. The application deadline is Feb. 17. Scholarships worth $3,000 will be awarded to 21 students, and an additional $2,000 will be awarded to five distinguished recipients.

2/7, 10pm, 42seconds: Soldiers with Schofield's 25th Infantry invited Campbell High School students to the base to get hands on military experience. They took a close look at military vehicles and the communication tools the soldiers use while on tour.

2/9, 10pm, 1:01: President Obama announced today he is implementing reforms to No Child Left Behind. Hawaii is not among the ten states that will receive a waiver from the federal education law. The law was designed to hold schools accountable for their students' progress.

2/12, 10pm, 1:29: Burning inside the wooden structure were payroll records, student loans and other financial documents for the university's ten campuses. The portable building housed the University of Hawaii's Fiscal Management and Procurement Office which handled the paperwork for roughly 60,000 students and 8,000 faculty members and staff.

2/13, 5am, 29seconds: POW WOW runs all this week and includes more than 40 legendary street artists. Students from Roosevelt, McKinley, Voyager Charter School and Kamehameha Schools are taking part in this year's event. At the end, a culminating student art piece will be mounted at Voyager Charter School.

2/13, 6am, 36seconds: The Teacher's Union accepted an invitation by Governor Abercrombie to continue negotiating a new contract but, says it still does not plan to withdraw its labor complaint against the state. The decision followed a two week listening tour where union leaders tried to find out why teachers overwhelmingly rejected a contract offer last month.

2/14, 5am, 21seconds: Once again the Honolulu Community College sheet metal program is making roses of galvanized metal. This is the 3rd year of the project, each eternal rose is 5 dollars. The proceeds go to the sheet metal program.

2/14, 5pm, 31seconds: A malfunction in the building's wiring system is what caused a fire this weekend at the University of Hawaii at Manoa. The fire first broke out on Sunday at the university's lower campus, building that holds payroll and student loan information. Fire investigators determined an electrical malfunction of the wiring system produced heat inside of the wooden walls and that then caused fire to ignite.

2/18, 10pm, 53seconds: The musical outreach programs in Native Hawaiian charter schools got a much needed shot in the arm this evening at the Hawaii-Unite Music Festival at Kaka'ako Waterfront Park.

2/20, 6pm, 16seconds: University of Hawaii researchers showed off two of their prized possessions today at Maka'i pier in Waimanalo. Moanike'ala Nabarro reports, today was a rare day for the public to see two submersibles known for historic discoveries at the bottom of the sea.

2/20, 10pm, 25seconds: Investigators on Hawaii island are trying to find out what caused a fire on the University of Hawaii's Hilo campus. Fire crews arrived at the scene just after 700pm Sunday night.

2/22, 5am, 41seconds: The first sexting case in Hawaii to result in criminal charges happened just last year. Cody Onizuka, a teachers aide from Niu Valley Middle School reportedly called and texted a student at the school repeatedly. Prosecutors say he eventually convinced the girl to take cell phone photos of herself naked and send them to him.

2/25, 7am, 31seconds: The Hawaii State Teachers Association released its endorsements for this year's Congressional elections. The HSTA Board of Directors chose Mazie Hirono for U-S Senate.

2/28, 6am, 30seconds: Tsunami waves generated by the massive earthquake in Japan dragged up to 4 million tons of debris into the ocean. Scientists believe ocean currents are carrying some of the lumber, refrigerators, fishing boats and other objects across the Pacific toward the US. A University of Hawaii senior researcher and ocean current expert says 1 to 5 percent of 2 million tons of debris may reach Hawaii, Alaska, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia by next year. The UH researcher plans to discuss the latest location of the debris sometime today.

3/3, 6am, 27seconds: The Waianae Peace Center is holding its opening ceremonies this morning starting at 8am. The event will include a performance by several martial arts masters.

3/6, 6am, 28seconds: A few Kauai schools will be closed today because of the bad weather. Hanalei School, Kilauea School, Kapa'a High School, Kapa'a Middle School and Kapa'a Elementary School will be closed according to the Department of Education. Kamehameha Preschool in A'ناهole is closed as well as Ka'waikini Charter School in Lihue.

3/6, 6am, 19seconds: Schools superintendent Kathryn Matayoshi is expected to provide a progress report today to the Board of Education on Hawaii's Race to the Top money. The state's four year 75 million dollar Race to the Top Grant was been deemed "at risk" after a report in January cited significant concerns about the state's ability to meet its reform commitments.

3/6, 6pm, 31seconds: Last month's fire at the University of Hawaii's Manoa campus, has sped up the relocation of a department that specializes in speech and language therapy.

3/6, 10pm, 1:14: Men will be donning high heels and walking a mile around the University of Hawaii's Manoa campus today in an effort to end rape, sexual assault and gender violence. It's all part of the "walk a mile in her shoes" campaign.

3/7, 6am, 1:19: While the heavy rains and stormy conditions have past over Oahu, residents continue to clean up the mess. Damage from the rain has forced the animation and design classes in the KCC's Koa Building to be canceled. Calvary by the Sea Preschool in Aina Haina is also closed for the second day.

3/7, 6am, 1:15: The Senate passed 372 bills. They include: issuing 500 million dollars in general obligation bonds to fund repair and maintenance projects at a number of state facilities including the University of Hawaii.

3/7, 5pm, 13seconds: Hanalei Elementary School is expected to reopen tomorrow. Flooding forced the Hanalei Bridge to close on Monday cutting off access to the school. All other public and charter schools are open.

3/7, 6pm, 25seconds: A celebration on the Big Island today as Pahoa High and Intermediate School dedicated its own gymnasium. For 69 years the school used an old county gym for athletic and other events. But now, students have this new facility that seats a thousand people.

3/7, 10pm, 30seconds: Hawaii's schools will soon see 7.5 million dollars in money for improvements, and new facilities. One million dollars will go to creating the new East Kapolei High School. The school has been proposed for years to ease overcrowding at James Campbell and Kapolei High Schools.

3/8, 5am, 1:03: The concept behind the "Ask Your Senator" project is simple. The week-long celebration honors all things educational, Hawaii's local schools, educators, students, and various programs, from early childhood to the university system.

3/13, 6am, 26seconds: There is heightened security at the University of Hawaii at Manoa after a student reported she was sexually assaulted Friday in the Hale Aloha I'lima dorms.

3/17, 7am, 21seconds: Post office officials unveiled a new plaque dedicating the building on Pahoa Avenue as the "Cecil L. Heftel Post Office Building. Heftel is known for his work in the broadcasting industry and for his 5 terms in Congress. He also served on the Hawaii Board of Education before his death in 2010.

3/20, 5am, 21seconds: A new survey sheds new light on why Hawaii's public school teachers rejected that six-year contract with the state. According to the Castle Foundation, a majority of the teachers who voted against the deal, did so because they either did not have enough information about the teacher evaluation process or felt the proposal was too vague.

3/20, 6am, 28seconds: New developments underway today for public school teachers and the ongoing labor dispute over their contract. Plus Governor Abercrombie fights back over the latest offer.

3/20, 6am, 25seconds: Today the Board of Education will update members on a contract battle between the teachers union and the State. HSTA President Will Okabe confirms a proposal was submitted on February 28th. A response from the Governor's office did not include any negotiation dates.

3/20, 6am, 31seconds: A new survey sheds new light on why Hawaii's public school teachers rejected that six-year contract with the state. According to the Castle Foundation, a majority of the teachers who voted against the deal, did so because they either did not have enough information about the teacher evaluation process or felt the proposal was too vague.

3/21, 10pm, 1:26: Hawaiian language immersion students took to the capitol today to try and get what they say is fair treatment when it comes to state testing. Hawaiian immersion students at 21 schools across the state are not taught English until the fifth grade. However assessment tests begin in the third grade.

3/23, 5am, 21seconds: The US Department of Education will be in Hawaii to perform a fiscal review And to reassess Hawaii's "High Risk" status...Hawaii's DOE says they are looking forward to the visit to show off improvements in math and reading scores as well as new teacher evaluation requirements.

3/27, 5:30pm, 35seconds: Drawn out teacher negotiations, a bureaucracy that's not taking enough action. Those are just some of the concerns expected to be addressed as state and federal education leaders meet to determine whether Hawaii is still "at risk" of losing 75 million dollars in funding.

3/27, 6am, 1:04: State's Race to the Top Grant was put on "high risk" status. Today a four person federal review board arrives in the islands to assess the state's progress in the grant program. But some say the ongoing labor dispute with the teachers union could be a critical concern by federal officials.

3/27, 6pm, 20seconds: A Big Island Charter School will soon get a three-million dollar makeover...Innovations Public Charter School, in Kailua-Kona has been approved for a two-point-nine million dollar federal loan to add more than 8-thousand square feet in classroom space.

3/28, 6am, 52seconds: Now the University of Hawaii is making a data base of images available on line which was previously available only to researchers. The images were taken from countless hours of video tape taken from submersibles in water from 150 feet down to more than a mile deep.

3/28, 10pm, 26seconds: A bill aimed at developing state assessment tests in the Hawaiian language passed out of committee today. Last week, Hawaiian immersion students testified at the capitol. They told lawmakers it is difficult for them to take state tests in English in the 3rd grade when they don't officially learn English until the 5th grade.

Issue: HEALTH & SAFETY

Military Recruiting – 3/15-3/31/12

HAB/PEP Hawaii National Guard recruiting campaign

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 15 time during the above period.

Anti-Smoking Campaign/HI State Dept. of Health – 1/2-2/26/12

Hawaii Tobacco Quit Line encouraging viewers to quit smoking.

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 89 times during the above period.

Military Recruiting – 1/1-2/26/12

HAB/PEP U.S. Coast Guard encouraging enlistments

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 24 times during the above period.

Hawaii Department of Health/Clear the Smoke – 1/1-2/12/12

Anti smoking campaign by Hawaii Dept. of Health.

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 87 times during the above period.

Non-Profit Brain Injury Conference – 2/27-3/7/12

Encourage viewers to attend the conference in Honolulu.

Aired :30 PSA for a total of 42 times during the above period.

Date/Subject of KITV4 News stories on Health and Safety:

1/1, 5pm, 33seconds: Just 2 seconds into the New Year, Faith Erin Fielden decided to make an appearance. She is the first baby born in Hawaii in 2012. Faith was born at 12:02 a.m. at Tripler Army medical center. She weighed 7 pounds, 2 ounces and is 20 and half inches.

1/2, 6am, 29seconds: Besides Civil Unions, a few other new laws went into effect with the start of the New Year. One aims to protect victims of sexual or domestic violence, and another new law allows victims to fall under a protected class when it comes to discrimination in the workplace.

1/2, 6am, 49seconds: The Honolulu Fire Department remained busy this New Year's despite the fireworks ban. HFD says two people were seriously injured by fireworks, a 12-year-old child at Kualoa Beach Park, while another man was taken to the Queens Medical Center for burns after a firework exploded in his hand.

1/2, 6pm, 51seconds: At this point, 500 of 990 employees have already been given pink slips. The next round of layoffs could come as early as tomorrow, but the hospital is still uncertain of how many workers will be let go. So far, the layoffs of nurses, aides, technicians, security, and support staff have been based on functions still needed by the hospital and the patients that remain.

1/2, 6pm, 20seconds: Honolulu police will extend their holiday DUI checkpoints through February 29th. The department says officers will continue to set up checkpoints at unannounced times and locations in an effort to reduce crashes and crack down on impaired driving.

1/2, 10pm, 33seconds: A certain type of fat hormone could increase your risk for dementia according to the Archives of Neurology. The fat hormone that produces excess weight around the middle section appears to increase the risk for brain function loss and Alzheimer's disease, particularly in women.

1/3, 5am, 56seconds: There's a new tool this morning that could make a big impact on how much you pay for homeowners insurance. The state has launched a comparison website, allowing Hawaii residents to see for themselves how much. Insurance Commissioner Gordon Ito asked for companies to VOLUNTARILY submit their rates last summer, over concerns the state's Hurricane insurance premiums were too high and 14 companies agreed.

1/4, 10pm, 19seconds: The Coast Guard and the city Ocean Safety officials only formalized their new relationship four months ago. The idea is both have expertise in their fields and together they make a stronger search and rescue team.

1/5, 5am, 33seconds: A new report finds preschoolers may not be getting enough active playtime. A new study on child care published in the Journal of Pediatrics finds three-quarters of American children aged 3 to 5 are in some sort of child care.

1/5, 5pm, 1:36: The Coast Guard set up a 100 yard safety zone around the whales, while NOAA and state land officers were called in to help monitor the whales' safety and the safety of other boaters. Harbor workers worry the whales could get stuck.

1/5, 5pm, 48seconds: A new report from the American Cancer Society finds that cancer death rates have been decreasing since 1999. About one million deaths from cancer have been avoided and the risk of death from cancer for men and women has dropped by more than 1%.

1/6, 5am, 30seconds: The closure of the Hawaii Medical Center in Liliha also means the closure of the Liver Center, a place that has treated patients with hepatitis, cirrhosis, liver cancer and liver failure. Health providers stress liver disease patients can still get care from emergency clinics and even from regular physicians.

1/6, 5pm, 30seconds: A University of Hawaii Marine Center research team is headed back to shore... after their boat started to fill up with water. The US Coast Guard delivered pumps to the Kilo Moana, which was 69 miles north of Oahu after the crew reported taking on 400 gallons of water per minute because of a baseball-sized hole in the boat's hull.

1/6, 10pm, 21seconds: UH medical students hosted a free community health fair at the Medical Education Building of the John A. Burns School of Medicine and was free to the public. Students organized dozens of booths to offer valuable health care information.

1/7, 7am, 47seconds: Hawaii Nursing students are getting a nearly real life lesson. The University of Hawaii's new state of the art simulation center is equipped with cutting-edge technology and mannequins that breathe and speak. Students get an almost life like experience when caring for all kinds of patients from adults to babies.

1/8, 5pm, 21seconds: Hawaiian electric crews are working along the Pali and Kamehameha Highway. Expect some lanes to be closed around the work sites, near the hairpin turn on the Pali, the H-3, and Kamehameha highway interchange.

1/9, 6am, 23seconds: A new effort to tighten Hawaii's sex trafficking laws begins today. Last year, the state implemented a new series of laws, increasing the protection for victims, and upgrading possible charges against pimps and johns to felonies.

1/9, 5pm, 33seconds: Pharmaceutical giant Novartis is voluntarily recalling several over-the-counter drugs in the US. Excedrin and NoDoz medicines with December 2014 expiration dates, Gas-X Prevention and Bufferin medicines with December 2013 expiration dates are also included in the recall.

1/10, 5am, 33seconds: Fireworks injuries across the state dropped dramatically this year according to a new report released by the state department of health. The report lists a total of 25 injuries across the state that required emergency treatment.

1/10, 5am, 49seconds: Medical experts also say that unused prescription drugs account for nearly 90 percent of the prescription drug abuse reported by children. And when it comes to information like that...it can be hard for parents to keep up. The American Pharmacists Association recommends that people go through their prescription drugs once a year and throw away all unused or expired medications.

1/10, 6am, 35seconds: FBI agents arrested a 65-year-old Japanese citizen Monday morning for allegedly assaulting a flight attendant on a Delta Air Lines flight from Tokyo to Honolulu. Sohei Yamanouchi was arrested after the flight landed here around 7:30am.

1/11, 10pm, 46seconds: The controversial stem cell transplant is not yet approved by the FDA and is not covered by insurance in the US and there is not enough information about the long term effects of the procedure. About a year ago, we first introduced you to a UH associate professor diagnosed with not just one, but three rare autoimmune diseases. Cristy Kessler was living with pain every day and was, in her words, "preparing to die". But today, nine months after undergoing experimental stem cell treatment overseas, she's learning how to live.

1/12, 5am, 38seconds: Ford Motor Company the number two US automaker is recalling three of its models due to safety hazards. They include the popular Ford Escape, Free star, and Mercury Monterey. All 2001 and 2002 models of the Escape SUV are being recalled for the cap on the brake fluid cylinder. Service managers say it can crack and cause the fluid to leak, which poses a fire risk.

1/12, 6am, 14seconds: State crews will be removing loose rocks and debris along the road leading to Diamond Head today. Crews will be manually removing the rocks weekdays from 7am to 330pm. During the work, the Mau'ka lane of Diamond Head Road may be closed for safety.

1/12, 6pm, 21seconds: Kauai Ocean Safety officials closed a beach in Hanapepe today because of a shark sighting in the area. A 7 foot grey reef shark was reported seen in waters of Salt Pond Beach.

1/13, 5am, 39seconds: The state has condemned part of a Kaneohe Pier that happens to be the main access point for boats going to and from Coconut Island. Engineers declared the area unsafe closing it off to cars. As a temporary measure, staff at the University of Hawaii's Institute of Marine Biology built a floating dock

1/13, 6am, 32seconds: The Transportation Safety Administration says on Wednesday a Glock pistol was discovered in the carry-on of a man headed to the islands. Then on Thursday, a 22-caliber was found in the carry-on bag of a man flying to San Francisco. It was loaded with eight rounds, including a bullet in the chamber, a man was also arrested. Both incidents happened at Washington's Sea-Tac Airport.

1/13, 10pm, 34seconds: The US Department of Agriculture says every time you eat away from home, you add an average 134 calories a day to your diet. A study in the "Journal of Nutrition and Behavior" taught women to eat significantly less when eating out.

1/14, 6am, 46seconds: A program started here in Hawaii that helps keep people out of prison has received national attention and now it's expanding. The program is called Hawaii's Opportunity Probation with Enforcement or HOPE.

1/15, 6am, 52seconds: Kaiser Permanente Hawaii is helping to get food grown in school gardens into students' meals. Kaiser just awarded Kokua Hawaii Foundation's "Aina in Schools Program" with what they call a "farm to school" grant. The money will fund a school garden safety certification pilot program as well as this summer's Hawaii State Farm to School conference.

1/15, 10pm, 40seconds: Ocean safety responded to 2 other distress calls off Lanikai and another one near Electric Beach in Waianae. Lifeguards rescued all victims who did not suffer any significant injuries.

1/16, 6pm, 48seconds: The Transportation Security Administration has insisted for years its airport scanners are safe. But now the agency is looking into buying radiation monitoring devices to test its employees. TSA critics have been calling on the agency to study full-body scanners to ensure they do not expose workers and passengers to dangerous levels of radiation.

1/16, 10pm, 13seconds: Passengers who refuse to go through the scanners are subject to pat downs. The TSA says it is dedicated to the health and safety of its employees. The agency says it knows of no documented cancer cases linked to its security scanners.

1/16, 10pm, 28seconds: Nearly 500 Kaiser Permanente employees in Hawaii spent the Martin Luther King holiday giving back to their communities. On Oahu, physicians and staff members spent time volunteering at Wilson Elementary School.

1/17, 5am, 40seconds: Thyroid cancer is on the rise and medical researchers are not sure why but they have some theories. The National Cancer Institute estimates more than 56,000 new cases will be diagnosed this year. Doctors believe obesity, a lack of fruits and vegetables, and radiation exposure all play a part in the disease. They also say the more dental x-rays a person has, the higher their risk. Another mystery is why women are almost 3 times more likely to develop the disease than men.

1/17, 6am, 27seconds: Hansen's disease survivors and workers at the Kalaupapa Settlement on Molokai will soon have an easier way to get to and from Oahu. Makani Kai Charters, a new air service carrier, will begin twice daily service from Honolulu six days a week with one round trip on Sundays.

1/18, 6am, 42seconds: Even if you're watching your diet and exercising more, it appears it may be true what they say, laughter is the best medicine. Finding a little humor everyday is good for you and good for your heart.

1/19, 10pm, 26seconds: A state judge today ordered a 37 year old Waimea man to stand trial in the death of a 3 year old girl in his care. Ezekiel Wakinekona is charged with manslaughter in the death of Marley Makanani. He is also charged with abuse involving Marley's two sisters.

1/20, 6am, 20seconds: Nearly 700 residents were left in the dark for most of the evening when power went out in Hahaione and throughout Hawaii Kai at around 12:30am last night. HECO says the outage was caused by a problem with an underground cable.

1/21, 7am, 20seconds: Korean automaker KIA is calling back thousands of vehicles because of faulty airbags. About 146,000 cars are being called back. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration says KIA Optima's made between 2006 through 2008 are affected, so are 2007 and 2008 KIA RONDOS.

1/21, 7am, 22seconds: There's been a change of command at US Pacific Fleet at Pearl Harbor. Admiral Cecil Haney is now in charge of 180 ships, nearly 2 thousand aircrafts and 125 thousand sailors, marines and civilians.

1/22, 10pm, 17seconds, Catherine Cruz reports that the second officer killed on the freeway in less than six months caused Chief Louis Kealoha to plead with motorists to be cautious when you come across emergency vehicles with their lights flashing.

1/23, 6am, 32seconds: More than 50 million Americans get sick from their food every year and mostly in their own kitchens. The usual suspects are your kitchen sink, sponges, and that dirty dish rag. But reports show that things like your purse, glasses, and phone can contaminate your food as well.

1/23, 6am, 22seconds: A hearing today could shed new light on murder case that's gone unsolved for two decades. Fifty-two year old Gerald Austin of Honolulu will appear in district court this morning after being arrested for a crime that occurred in 1989. On Friday Honolulu Police arrested Austin at his Kinau street home after DNA evidence linked him to the death of 81 year old Edith Skinner at the Makua Alii housing complex.

1/23, 6am, 22seconds: On Friday Honolulu Police arrested Austin at his Kinau street home after DNA evidence linked him to the death of 81-year old Edith Skinner at the Makua Alii housing complex.

1/23, 5pm, 27seconds: The FBI is warning there is a new scam out there to steal your money. It's a phishing scheme that uses spam e-mails that appear to be from government agencies such as the Federal Reserve or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

1/23, 6pm, 10seconds: The bill also includes 300,000 dollars to the National Kidney Foundation of Hawaii for renal disease support. The bill now goes before the full House and Senate for a final vote.

1/23, 10pm, 25seconds: Members of the 2nd battalion, 3rd Marines are at Pohakuloa Training Area participating in Lava Viper. That's the code name for an arms training exercise. There are about 15 hundred Marines training in this exercise.

1/24, 5am, 1:19: In light of this weekends tragic death of Officer Garret Davis, the Honolulu Police Department is urging lawmakers to support a bill to increase the safety zone around emergency vehicles assisting at a scene.

1/24, 10pm, 27seconds: The safety record of certain police cars is being questioned tonight. This after Honolulu loses one of its finest in a fatal crash over the weekend and hundreds gather at the state capitol to send a message to lawmakers.

1/25, 5am, 49seconds: The Honolulu Police department is looking into a defect with their patrol cars as a possible cause in to Saturday's crash that killed a police officer. Twenty-eight year old Garret Davis died when the Ford Crown Victoria he was in was rear ended along the H-1 freeway. Some 85 percent of the nation's law enforcement departments use the Crown Victoria, a favorite for it's strength and durability.

1/25, 5am, 52seconds: A New study has uncovered physical evidence, that people who challenge themselves intellectually, could be decreasing their risk of developing Alzheimer's disease. The clues were in the patient's brains themselves

1/25, 5pm, 31seconds: The crash happened on the Waimea side of Haleiwa in the Kahuku bound lane. Police initially closed the highway in both directions about 3:20am but later opened a contra-flow lane. Power was cut to about 500 Hawaiian Electric Company customers but was restored by this afternoon. HECO crews finished replacing the pole around 230 PM.

1/25, 6pm, 28seconds: A frightening day for some divers on windward Oahu this morning. The boat they went out on capsized off Kualoa Beach Park. Seven divers with the boat were forced to swim to safety.

1/26, 6am, 19seconds: A campaign to fight hunger in the islands kicks off today, it's the Hawaii Fogbank's "One Million Meals" challenge. This marks the 23rd year for the annual food drive. A kick-off breakfast is being held this morning at the Hilton Hawaiian Village.

1/27, 5am, 1:23: Today, a Senate committee on Health will be meeting to discuss the future of Emergency Medical Services on Oahu's West side. The committee will be making an appropriation of 1.5 million dollars for fiscal year 2012 to 2013 for medical services for West Oahu patients.

1/27, 5pm, 36seconds: In health news there's a new test for lung cancer that can predict which patients are at high risk for having their cancer come back. An article in the journal "Lancet" has news of the two largest clinical studies ever done on the molecular genetics of lung cancer. They show genetic tests can predict which early-stage lung cancers will return after surgery.

1/27, 10pm, 26seconds: The Honolulu Police department and employees of Farmers Insurance Hawaii hit the streets today to remind drivers to follow speed limits, watch out for pedestrians and avoid distractions.

1/28, 6pm, 1:36: This afternoon children played and rode their bicycles over blood stained sidewalks at Mayor Wright Housing. It is where a large brawl ended with one man fatally stabbed and three others injured.

1/29, 7am, 27seconds: Police say 20 year old Cody Endo was driving toward Makawao when he lost control of his truck which struck a guard rail, climbed an embankment and overturned. Endo was not wearing a seatbelt. Investigators believe that speed, alcohol and drugs may have contributed to the crash.

1/29, 5pm, 28seconds: Hawaiian Electric says the power went out just before 11am and was restored about an hour later. The outage affected areas around Fort Weaver Road and Hanakahi Street. The company says the wind may have caused a tree branch to touch an electric line or two lines may have touched each other and caused the short.

1/29, 10pm, 38seconds: A parasailing accident in Kewalo Basin this morning sent two tourists to the hospital, one with critical injury. Emergency officials say the two men were being reeled from a ride with Xtreme Parasailing off Oahu's south shore, when part of the safety equipment malfunctioned.

1/30, 5am, 57seconds: Many skateboarders don't wear helmets while attempting daring jumps. But state lawmakers gave the green light to a bill that would require anyone 15 and younger to wear properly fitted and fastened skate helmets that are approved by agencies like the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

1/30, 5am, 17seconds: The State Department of Education is getting more than 40,000 dollars to participate in a National School Lunch program. The money is being provided by Kaiser Permanente Hawaii.

1/30, 5pm, 39seconds: Caffeine could lead to changes in women's estrogen levels. That's the finding of a study published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition. The study found drinking about 2 cups of coffee a day increased estrogen levels in Asian women. Researchers stress that caffeine doesn't seem to cause problems in the short term or affect monthly ovulation.

1/30, 5pm, 37seconds: According to the Centers for Disease Control not enough Americans are being screened for colon, breast and cervical cancer. In 2010, about 72% of women were being screened for breast cancer and the national target is 81%.

1/30, 6pm, 1:00: In Waipio police are investigating a possible marijuana grow operation after a fire broke out at a home on Polinahe Place overnight. Honolulu fire investigators say the fire started in an electrical panel in the garage that had been "inappropriately" altered.

1/31, 5pm, 38seconds: McDonald's announced it will no longer use a food additive in its burgers called "pink slime." The filler is made from spare beef trimmings that are treated with ammonium hydroxide to kill any bacteria.

1/31, 5pm, 25seconds: A new study is questioning the old belief that cholesterol-lowering drugs may not work as well in women. Researchers with Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital looked at data from 18 studies involving more than 140,000 people of which 40,000 were women. Researchers found in both men and women, statins significantly cut the risk of heart attack and death.

2/1, 6am, 22seconds: Developing news this morning as a major drug company issues a nationwide recall of birth control pills. Pfizer is recalling 28 lots of the Lo-Ovral-28 pills, which are carried under the generic name Norgestrel. Packets of the drug reportedly containing too many active tablets, and others had too few. The company says the problem is not related to safety. It raises the risk of unintended pregnancy.

2/1, 10pm, 52seconds: It's still unclear exactly how the two tourists ended up being dragged in the water. Two men were being reeled in by Xtreme Parasailing, when part of the safety equipment malfunctioned. A Coast Guard official told us it is responsible for checking the safety of the vessels but not the equipment.

2/1, 10pm, 31seconds: A popular shortcut to the Kahului Airport on Maui will soon be permanently shut down. The state Department of Transportation says it will permanently close the section of Kala Road from Hana Highway to Eena Street starting next Wednesday, February 8. The DOT and Maui County say the closure is for the public's safety since the area has seen an increase in illegal dumping, brush fires, and criminal activity. Drivers can still access area streets and the airport from Haleakala Highway at the Hana Highway intersection.

2/1, 10pm, 1:05: The Susan G. Komen Foundation a leading breast cancer research group has made a controversial move. It says it's cutting its funding for Planned Parenthood.

2/1, 10pm, 23seconds: The next time you go to the doctor, you might want to ask the nurse to take your blood pressure on both arms. A new study in the British medical journal "The Lancet" says if the top number, the systolic reading is at least 10 to 15 milli-meters higher in one arm than the other, it could be a sign of vascular disease.

2/2, 6am, 31seconds: Occupy Honolulu protestors now have less than 4 hours until the city plans to remove property illegally stored on the sidewalks around Thomas Square.

2/2, 6am, 39seconds: A Honolulu Police Major indicted on federal drug and extortion charges is expected back in court today. Major Carlton Nishimura was indicted last February in a case in which prosecutors allege he collected bribes in exchange for protecting illegal gambling halls from police raids.

2/3, 5am, 33seconds: The American Heart Association's "Go Red For Women" movement is helping to raise awareness of heart disease, the number one killer of women. One in three women die of heart disease every year, that's more than all forms of cancer combined. Unfortunately, the killer isn't easy to see, heart disease is often silent, hidden and misunderstood.

2/6, 6am, 54seconds: Our first topic is the leading cause of cancer deaths in women. It's not breast cancer, not ovarian cancer but lung cancer. According to the National Cancer Institute, lung cancer kills more women than breast cancer, uterine cancer, and ovarian cancer combined and 20% of the women affected, have never touched a cigarette.

2/6, 5pm, 35seconds: A new study in the Archives of Neurology finds that many people diagnosed with very mild or mild Alzheimer's disease may land in a new medical category called mild cognitive impairment.

2/7, 6am, 1:07: According to the American Heart Association, every 25 seconds, someone in this country has a coronary event and every minute, at least one person dies from the disease. But, it's a silent killer that we can make a difference in. Doctors say that almost 80% of heart disease is preventable, and even small lifestyle changes can have a big impact.

2/7, 5pm, 25seconds: The Vice President of the Susan G. Komen for the Cure Foundation is out. Karen Handel resigned today following a controversy over funding for some Planned Parenthood projects. The breast cancer advocacy group first decided not to renew a partnership with Planned Parenthood which operates clinics that perform abortions.

2/7, 5pm, 24seconds: A report by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says nine out of 10 adult Americans eat too much salt each day and the biggest source of sodium comes from bread. After breads and rolls, deli lunch meats came in second, followed by pizza.

2/8, 5am, 1:02: A tragic zip line accident on the Big Island prompted lawmakers to look into whether the activity is in need of state regulations. In September 35 year old Ted Callaway of Lahaina fell 200 feet to his death on a rocky stream while testing the zip line. Callaway's co-worker, 43year old Curtis Wright from Ohio remains in extremely critical condition when a tower collapsed.

2/8, 6am, 20seconds: There may not be a need to switch your cell phone to "airplane" mode. Congress is investigating whether it's safe to use your cell phone on planes. Funding for the investigation was approved along with a long term spending bill for the F-A-A.

2/8, 6am, 22seconds: There are high surf warning until 600 pm Thursday for north and west facing shores of Niihau, Kauai and Oahu and north facing shores of Molokai , Maui and Kona. There are high wind warning until 600 am Wednesday for Big Island summits and Haleakala summit. Small craft advisory until 600 pm Wednesday for all Hawaiian waters.

2/8, 6am, 58seconds: Today we focus on the dangers of Human Papilloma Virus or HPV. Undetected precancerous changes can develop into cervical cancer and spread to the bladder, intestines, lungs, and liver. Although it can take years for cervical cancer to develop, it's not easily detected and patients do not usually have problems until the cancer is advanced and has spread.

2/8, 6pm, 29seconds: A deal between Japan and the United States will relocate American troops from Okinawa to other parts of the world, including Hawaii. Details surrounding today's announcement are limited but senior Japanese officials say 4,700 marines will be transferred to Guam while 3,300 marines will rotate among Australia, Hawaii, and the Philippines. The agreement does not require the closure of the Marine Corps Air Station in Okinawa, as about 10,000 troops will reportedly remain in the region.

2/9, 6am, 56seconds: Part four of our Silent Killers week brings us one of the biggest contributing factors to a host of illnesses and diseases. According to the CDC, two out of every three Americans are considered either overweight or obese.

2/9, 5pm, 29seconds: New research suggests a novel way to help those with Alzheimer's retain their memories. The New England Journal of Medicine just published a scientific study that shows electrical zaps can help stimulate certain recall centers in the brain.

2/9, 10pm, 36seconds: A 66 year old Honolulu man died after a city bus ran over him in Mo'ili'ili late last night. This happened around 1130pm on South King Street near University Avenue. The medical examiner identified the victim as Dennis Crozier.

2/10, 6am, 28seconds: We are highlighting Silent Killers, this morning's focus is alcoholism. Nearly 18 million adults in the US are either alcoholics or have alcohol problems, according to the National Institutes of Health. Roughly one-third of alcoholics are women. Many of them drink and use drugs while they are pregnant.

2/10, 5pm, 31seconds: There's a new study out that may give some women reason to breathe a sigh of relief.

Researchers say pregnant women with cancer may not be putting their babies at extra risk of health problems if they choose to have chemotherapy.

2/11, 7am, 35seconds: All this week on KITV4 news this morning, we've been talking about Silent Killers.

And today, we end our series by focusing on cancer prevention. For many cancers, the key is early detection with regular doctor visits, and an awareness of your own body.

2/13, 6am, 24seconds: It started just before midnight at Kiyo's transmission on Queen Street. Intense flames inside the shop forced firefighters to try and battle the flames from outside. At one point, the fire ignited equipment inside, sending sparks over the heads of firefighters, sending firefighters to pull back for safety.

2/14, 6am, 22seconds: The FAA is making plans to replace retiring air traffic controllers in the wake of recent incidents, including one where a controller fell asleep while on duty, forcing two passenger flights to land unassisted. FAA administrators and pilots have both been outraged by the news, and some are insisting that two controllers be scheduled for a shift, as a safety precaution.

2/14, 5pm, 27seconds,: A study by the Food and Drug Administration found 400 lipsticks on the market tested positive for lead. The least contaminated lipstick was "Wet & Wild Mega Mixers Lip Balm. Five L'Oreal and Maybelline lipsticks ranked among the top most contaminated. Maybelline and "Color Sensation" by L'Oreal USA contained more than 275 times the amount of lead than the Wet and Wild brand. The FDA says the lead detected does not pose safety risks.

2/14, 10pm, 1:53: The islands are more than a mile offshore and out of the lifeguards direct view. To get a more educated understanding of the safety concerns around the Mokuluas, the chief of the city's Ocean Safety division says last summer the city quietly set up an undercover state of the art camera surveillance system.

2/15, 6am 21seconds: According to a new survey expected to be published in the Hawaii Journal of Medicine and Public Health, Hawaii County will lose 32% of its current physicians within the next five years.

2/15, 5pm, 31seconds: If you get a sinus infection, you may just want to just wait it out. A new study finds getting a prescription for antibiotics likely won't do you any good. The study was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Researchers looked at more than 160 people with sinus infections.

2/15, 5pm, 1:01: Roche, the maker of the cancer drug Avastin is sounding the alert this morning. It says fake vials of the drug that have been distributed in the US. Roche said that the fake products do not contain a key ingredient which is used to treat colon, lung, kidney and brain cancer. Certain medical practices are being warned a type of drug used to treat cancer patients isn't the real deal.

2/18, 7am, 24seconds: The nation's flu season is officially here and it's late. Officials from the Centers for Disease Control say this is the latest start to the flu season in nearly 25 year. Until this month there weren't enough influenza cases reported to signal the start of the season.

2/20, 10pm, 36seconds: A diver rescued overnight after spending hours in the treacherous waters off Kaena Point is home tonight. Forty-nine year old Scott Folsom had been out with two friends collecting aquarium fish when he ran into trouble. The U.S. Coast Guard had been searching through the night and were returning to refuel when they spotted Folsom's dive flashlight in the darkness.

2/20, 6pm, 17seconds: Hawaii's Senior Senator says Hawaii will benefit as the US shifts its focus to the Pacific Command in charge of half the globe. That's how US Senator Daniel Inouye describes the US Pacific Command headquartered here in Hawaii and as that command is strengthened, Hawaii will benefit.

2/21, 6am, 38seconds, A minor crash, leads to a shutdown for an entire school...The latest as MID-PAC students find themselves with an unexpected holiday.